

Dear divShare customer, divShare--your file sharing and storage site--has been hard at work bringing you the best product in the industry. We've created useful new features, made inovative improvements, and are taking great strides toward creating the first anb best cloud computing platform for consumers.

Here are just a few of the upgrades and new features over the past year:

Drag-and-drop uploader

The drag-and-drop uploader has been a favorite of our users, we've gotten tons of great feedback from our users on how simple this makes uploading your files. If you haven't tried it out yet, make sure you take it for a spin!

Increased Speed

divShare has increased both download and upload speeds for all users. Free account users should see a 2x increase in speed, and premium account owners will have an even better experience.

Video player skins

Many of our customers like using personalized skins for the embedded video player on their sites, either to better blend into their site's branding, or to visually enhance the content in the videos being played. Be creative with both your videos and the player itself!

Facebook connect

We wanted to make divShare even easier to use, so we took advantage of Facebook's APIs, and plugged in using Facebook connect. Sign in to divShare at the same time you're signing in to your FaceBook account, and vice-versa!

Facebook Privacy

divShare was the first service to enable the private sharing of content to your Facebook friends. divShare allows you to share one of your divShare files or folders to some people on Facebook, without exposing it to everyone you know! Your new family photos are for the in-laws, not your office mates, afterall.

New Data Center

divShare has operated a top-notch data center for several years. But as we topped 1.5 million active users (we're at 1.8 million as of this writing) we knew expansion was necessary. We expanded into a new data center, providing geographical redundancy, upgraded hardware, and better overall performance.

divShare was originally built as a file-sharing and backup solution, but it is rapidly evolving into much more. It is at the very heart of an industry-changing cloud computing platform for consumers--and current divShare customers will be the first in the world with the opportunity to see it... stay tuned!
